Current Comment

A prominent Englishman, who has had much experience in dealing with the liquor problem, recently made some observations on our troubles in America. He thinks that those who favor the repeal of the 18th amendment would help their cause by outlining a program for the sale of liquor that would save the country from the corrupt political influences of the retail dealers, brewers and distillers—for that he says was the greatest evil of the old system.

We are finding new evidence every day that as a nation, too, it pays to mind our own business.

Believe it or not—the largest consumer of maple sugar in the United States is the American Tobacco company.

No administration in the history of the government has worked more intelligently and effectively in dealing with a serious business depression than the present administration at Washington, and the work is beginning to show results.

Our League of Nations advocates are still urging us to enter some agreement that will bind America to take sides against the aggressor in any European war. But how would we decide who was the aggressor? Our information would come mainly from those news agencies that for years have specialized in misrepresenting the facts to the American people. Might we not find ourselves fighting on the wrong side? Why isn't it better to let the Europeans settle their own quarrels?

Russia is said to be getting ready to export a lot of salmon. When it gets to the United States no dobut the Amtorg will advertise it as Russian Red salmon for American pinks.

Down south they have discovered a way to make news print from "slash pine." Print paper from "slash" pine ought to be especially appropriate for some of our ultra modern journals.

Now that China has suppressed her home grown Reds, she shows symptoms of paying some attention to Moscow imperialism in Manchuria, which may illustrate anew the unwisdom of hitting a fellow when he is down lest he may afterward get up.

Cheer up. If you were a candidate and lost out in the election, just think of how much criticism you will avoid.

It is said that whiskers are coming back into popularity this year at the University of Kentucky. We should think they would be quite a handicap, especially to the quarterback.

The New York Central railroad wants an increase of 40 per cent in the fares for taking people in and out of New York city. Well, it ought to be worth that to get out, anyhow.

Will Rogers is shocked at the stupidity of school teachers in not tuning in the radio on Prof. Einstein instead of making the students listen to them. Bill ought to explain the theory of reltivity to the children in his next release.

That's all.

GRANGE HONORS MRS J. McCHESNEY AT RECENT MEET

S. N. Hedegard, worthy master, presided over the meeting of the Orchard City Grange last Tuesday evening. Plans were gotten under way for the harvest feast which will be held in the banquet room of the Odd Fellows hall Nov. 25 at 6:30, in honor of the new members who are being initiated into the order. Those who are taking the third and fourth degrees this same night are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bernhardt, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson.

At the meeting Mrs. Jessie McChesney was honored. She has been the grange lecturer for the past four years. The program was arranged and presented by the women's auxiliary, with Mrs. Laura Foster as chairman of the committee, assisted by Joe McKinnon. The program consisted of several selections by the Keesling orchestra, vocal duets by Ruth Pogue and Georgia Farley, of Santa Clara, guitar duets by John Lippert and Clyde Arbuckle of San Jose. Mrs. Mary Parkhill presented to Mrs. McChesney, on behalf of the Grange, a beautiful poem, attractively framed, and written for Mrs. Parkhill by a member of the Grange.

BUFFINGTONS LOSE LITTLE DAUGHTER

Friends in Campbell were shocked to hear of the death of the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buffington at the San Jose hospital after an illness of only four days. The Buffingtons are well-known in Campbell and many are grieving with them over their loss.

Gertrude Jane was ten years old. She attended the grammar school at Willow Glen and was a very popular little girl.

The Buffingtons lost a son a few years ago, making the death of their daughter still more sorrowful.

Good Show Bids For Friday Night Crowds; Nov 21

GUILD'S AUTUMN FAIR FINANCIAL SUCCESS, REPORT

The parlors of the Congregational church presented an almost fairylike appearance Thursday when the decorations for the Autumn Fair were all complet and the various booths overflowed with a multitude of articles, useful, attractive and colorful.

Upon entering the door a canopy of drooping pepper sprays, interspersed with bright colored autumn leaves, greeted the eye. Then the vision was centered upon the first booth, gay with bright-hued tulips, significant of the spring group who conducted the "Variety Store."

Passing on into the second room, a maze of butterflies fluttered over the section where the summer group offered their wares at the "Gift Shop."

Occupying a prominent position was an almost life-size four room doll house, fully equipped with every kind of doll furniture and toys which served as a stage setting for dolls of every conceivable kind and purpose.

The roving eye was then caught by the glitter of 'snow' and Christmas decorations which made gay the "Christmas Shop."

Fruits and vegetables attractively arranged added to the lure of the food booth, and the autumn leaf aprons and bright caps of the young ladies who served refreshments were another colorful note.

Friday evening almost two hundred patrons were served a baked ham dinner and later a very successful play was staged by the young people.

Complete returns are not in but each department reports very successful sales and the total may pass the $400 mark.

JOHN GAMO STARTS NEW MISSION HERE

John E. Gamo reports that he has started a "John 3:16 Mission" in Campbell. Meetings will be held Thursday evenings at 7:30 and Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock in a room at the rear of the cleaning establishment on Campbell and Central avenues, with the entrance on the latter thoroughfare.

A part of the functions of this mission is the distribution of useful articles to the needy, and Mr. Gamo asks that he be allowed to call for any such things as you may have no further use for—old clothes, magazines, furniture, bedding—anything. He will see that they fall into the possession of people whose need is great.

INTERNATIONAL VARIETIES TITLE OF FRIDAY'S SHOW

A program of unusual interest is to be given in the Campbell Grammar school auditorium this Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The entire proceeds are to go towards the liquidation of the small debt now remaining on the Boy Scout-Campfire Girls building and inasmuch as boys and girls of all sects and creeds can belong to these organizations, the sponsors of this program have had the full support of Slavonians, Italians and Japanese, as well as Americans, in arranging the various features.

The Jugo-Slav Napredek club of Cupertino will put on in their native tongue, a one-act play entitled "Opasan Pósjet," which, translated, means "A Dangerous Visit." Miss Violet Zmaric, a soprano of ability, will sing a group of songs, and Miss Geraldine Juras, a pupil of the local grammar school, will offer a dance as her contribution.

Antone Bonaccorso will render a group of songs in Italian and other of our Italian friends will display their wares.

Tom Tanimoto, who was runner-up for the junior jui-jitsu championship of Japan, and Joe Akahoshi, a wrestler of ability, will give an exhibition of the Japanese art of self defense. These boys are teachers of jui jitsu wrestling in San Jose at the present time.

One of the evening's treats will be solos by Stephen Merrill. Steve needs no introduction—everyone has heard his marvelous performance over the radio and in connection with the Atwater Kent audition contest. A wonderful future is predicted for this young man.

A one-act comedy will be given by the high school dramatic class under the leadership of Miss Jean McKinley. The Campfire Girls and Boy Scouts will start the program, and as usual, our good friend A. A. Thielke, and his high school orchestra will be on hand to entertain us. Mr. Thielke never fails—he's always ready to do his bit on any program.

Don't miss this opportunity to do your bit for the boys and girls and see a truly marvelous show. No tickets are on sale—you pay as you enter. You'll enjoy the entire affair; and don't forget the date, Friday, Nov. 21, 8 p. m. at the grammar school auditorium.

RIGHT COMBINATIONS

MRS HATTIE STRAY CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Hattie L. Stray, widow of the late George N. Stray, passed away at her home here Friday. She was 82 years of age, and had been a resident of Campbell since 1913, coming from Michigan. She was a faithful member of the Congregational church.

A simple but beautiful service was held at the San Jose funeral parlors with the Rev Eckles, formerly of Campbell, conducting the rites, a special last wish of the deceased. The Rev. Bennett spoke the prayer and benediction. Masses of flowers attested to the high esteem in which Mrs. Stray was held by those who knew her, and regret her passing.

Mrs. Stray is survived by her son, Walter H. Stray of Campbell, a sister, Mrs. Kate Hutchings, and two grandchildren, George and Helen Stray.

Interment will be made in the spring at Ludington, Mich.

WOMEN HEAR MORE ABOUT MEXICAN REPUBLIC MONDAY

"Personal Glimpses of Mexico" was the subject for the program at Monday's meeting of the Country Woman's club.

Two reels of moving pictures were shown: "Old Mexico" and "Marimba Land,, (Guatemala), which gave very good views of life and customs in the two countries.

Mrs. H. C. Smith, who visited Mexico last January, gave an informal talk about some of the interesting sights of Guadalajara, Mexico City and its environs, and described the various articles purchased in the neighboring republic, which were displayed on tables and about the room.

Another colorful note was added by bowls of chrysanthemums and berries, attractively placed.

During the business meeting the members voted to give $15 for the purchase of reference books for the library.

THE SPORT FORUM
By DICK LYNDEN

The recent Singer-Canonzeri pugilistic daze, in which 20,000 spectators saw Al Singer heaving and twisting in a lather of resin after one minute and six seconds of slapping, mawkish antics, has effected a variety of plausible and perturbing explanations of the former lightweight champ's distinguished fade-out. No championship passed more quickly except the time when Joe Gans flattened Frank Erne in 54 seconds.

Two looping left hooks, of vastly contested force, caught Singer on the muzzle, the latter sliding down from the molar region to the approximate area of the button. Singer's eyes turned glassy immediately; he reeled stupidly, took a right behind the ear, and flopped on his face. For seven counts he pawed at his neck as though his head had been batted off, but on the eighth he lurched to his feet crookedly, keeled backwards a step, and slumped through the ropes in Canonzeri's corner amid mingled hoots and cheers.

Bill Corum, a considerable authority, asserts that the fight was a fraud, that no blow struck during the brief intercourse "could have knocked a man down, much less out." Westbrook Pegler, who has a disposition for sham exposure, insists that Jimmy McLarnin softened him this summer when Singer was laid to rest in three rounds, pointing out that Singer grabbed his neck in precisely the same manner on that occasion. Hype Igoe describes Canonzeri's two controversial left hooks as "superbly timed." The crowd was divided, half acclaiming the new champ, the rest uniting in a Bronx special. Singer entered a three to one favorite.

The factor which induces suspicion of the fight is the exact parallel between Singer in this fight and Sammy Mandell when Singer polished him off in half a round in the Yankee stadium last summer. Corum claims that the two fights were identical, even to the dazed expression on Singer's face after the first left hook landed. Moreover, with three to one odds someone won a respectable sum of money.

Flashing a spectacular aerial attack and capitalizing on the breaks of the game, the St. Mary's Galloping Gaels ran wild in the last half to explode Fordham's two year record of no defeats and sustain far western achievements in eastern gridiron circles. The Gaels were outrushed 14 first downs to nine, but showed plenty of concentrated power whenever a score was needed.

The Pacific Coast Conference football title automatically became the legal possession of the Washington State Cougars last Saturday when the Cougars climaxed a perfect season with a 3-0 victory over the University of Washington. Oregon, the other claimant to the championship,

FEWER IMMIGRANTS COMING

Those experts who profess to believe that the government can do nothing to help the economic situation ought to be interested in the recent report of Harry E. Hull, United States immigration commissioner to the effect that the order of the administration against admitting aliens who might become public charges caused a 36 per cent decline in immigration during September. During the month 17,792 immigrants were admitted as against more than 28,000 in the same month in 1929.

The full effect of the order will not be felt for another month or two according to Mr. Hull with respect to the labor coming from Europe, especially for the reason that immigration visas previously issued are valid for four months. It is expected however that from now on labor immigration from Europe will be considerably reduced.

It might be argued that the laborers have slowed up in coming because of economic conditions in the United States but it is to be remembered that economic conditions in other countries are in most instances much worse than in the United States. Mr. Hull says that the invasion of the United States by cheap Mexican labor has almost ceased and that labor immigration from Canada is also at the vanishing point.

This decrease in immigration labor, brought about by administration order, is one instance of the effect of governmental attempt to help the economic situation. Now when there are millions of unemployed, or working part time in the United States we do not want additional labor coming in from countries of Europe which are not so well off as we are.

Our system of restricted immigration in America has doubtless served to lessen the effects of the present era of unemployment. Without the system there would have been several million more alien workers in the United States today seeking jobs.

TYRANNICAL LAWS BREED CRIME

"The problem if crime prevention in America will never be solved so long as law itself is tyrannical," says Justice John E. McGeehan of the supreme court of New York. Continuing, Justice McGeehan states that tyrannical law "makes partners of the best and the worst, degrading civil government, breeding disrespect for law, crippling and distorting the functions of the police and giving gang government its opportunity, its immunity and its market."

At present the favorite piece of sumptuary legislation proposed by our crime reformers is the anti-revolver law. Aleady it is, in one form or another, in effect in many of our states, and it has been suggested that a law outlawing the interstate shipment of small arms be passed by the federal government. Yet it is an inescapable fact that anti-gun laws have not prevented crime but, if anything, have aided it. In the words of a letter recently printed by the New York Times, "there is no possible way to keep the criminal from carrying a lethal weapon regardless of any laws that may be passed . . . Let us stop trying to make it more difficult for civilians who only desire to go about their business in peace and start working out a plan for ridding the country of those whose only business is crime."

Those who rail at the modern disrespect for law do not realize that the law will receive exactly the respect it deserves from the vast bulk of citizens. A tyrannical law will always be flouted and, by bringing all law into disrepute, will act as a stimulant to crime. It is time we learned a lesson from our wholesale law passing.

KIWANIS NOTES
By Heck

D. H. Cramer and Edw. Wiesendanger gave their reports on the Oakland convention at Kiwanis luncheon today.

Judge Grandin Miller told some interesting facts concerning the conduct and problems of the justice court as viewed from behind the sacred desk. The difference between the malefactor and many of our generally good citizens is the fact that one group has been caught.

Generally speaking the ethics of the legal profession are as good as those of almost any other classified interests.

A judge should not be influenced by the appearance of the prisoner before the court, as appearances are surely deceiving either for or against the party.

Judge Miller doesn't think the world has gone wrong nor has he a remedy for all the things that are wrong.

George Burrow came from his convalescence to act as chairman after a week of flu

BUSY BEE HAS NEW ELECTRIC SIGN

For the past week preparations have been going on at the Busy Bee restaurant, and today the work is complete; before us we see a marvelous illuminated sign, which was erected by Al Covey.

The sign is a large cup and saucer, with the words "Busy Bee" across the cup. It is surrounded by bright lights, and underneath it is an oblong sign bearing the word 'lunch.'

Harry White, proprietor of the restaurant, says he likes the new sign very much, but it makes him dizzy to watch the electric meter when the lights are on.

was eliminated from consideration by Oregon state, whch team defeated Coach Doc Spear's pupils 15-0.

Stanford added a queer sort of shift to their complete collection of football displays, and crushed the California Tech gridsters 57-7 in a drab, unintresting contest played on a mucky field. The shift, which made its debut last Saturday, functioned rather slovenly, with the tackle, who does not shift but merely runs from one side of the line to the other, often barely getting into position in time for the snap.

Stanford should win by four touchdowns (or more) next Saturday.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
By Helen Gartner

The cast for the senior play, "Adam and Eva," has been chosen. They appear on the stage as follows: James King, a rich man, Dan Furtado; Corinthia, his parlor maid, Della Del Grande; Clinton DeWitt, his son-in-law, Raymond De Selle; Julie DeWitt, his eldest daughter, Helen Gartner; Eva King, his youngest daughter, Lola Rhoten; Aunt Abby Rocker, his sister-in-law, Dorothy Todd; Dr. Jack Delamater, his neighbor, Clyde Hughes; Horace Pilgrim, his uncle, Mark Pasquin; Adam Smith, a business manager, Harold Freitas; Lord Andrew Gordon, his would-be son-in-law, Barton Wood.

The play is a comedy and will be given at the grammar school auditorium Friday, Jan. 16. There has been one rehearsal and all went well, with the cast working fine together.

The high school P. T. A. has begun its drive for new members. They have offered a prize of a party to the class which obtains the greatest number of new members. All parents and friends interested in our school are urged to join and help out the class they want to win.

The Oriole staff has chosen the theme for the year book. It is "orchards." the theme is well chosen and appropriate because Campbell is the "Orchard City" and is located in the center of the orchard area. The colors of the book were also chosen by the staff; they are gold and green.

Chums and classmates of Roberta Thomas and her sister Ethel welcomed them back to school after an absence of several months. Bobbie and Ethel have been residing in Fresno. They are members of the junior class.

The Girls' League enjoyed a program last Thursday. Dorothy Todd, program chairman, announced the numbers as follows: Lula Caldwell recited a Thanksgiving poem entitled "Fragrance of the Day." "Each in His Own Tongue," by Barbara Kapp, coached by Gladys Neilson. A piano duet by Olga Brydon and Betty Keesling playing "Under the Mistletoe." Next we had Lula Murdock and Marjorie Prout in a dancing and singing number. This was an impromptu act. The girls were asked to substitute for another number. They were accompanied by Olga Brydon.

Friday, Nov. 7, at the local gym, the Campbell high 110's and 120's played the Gilroy teams with Campbell winning on both counts. 110's, 16-17; 120's 20-7.

The dramatic class, under the supervision of Miss McKinley, will present a one-act play, "Two Crooks and a Lady," for the International Varieties show at the grammar school auditorium Friday night. The students who take prominent parts are: Esther Sorenson, Fred McCormick, Dorothy Todd, Muriel Crothers, Arthur Devitt, Harold Courtney and Franklin Murch.

Campbell's 110's and 120's showed supremacy over Mt. View recently, the 110's winning 10-8 and the 120's 10-9. On the local 110 team played De Selle and Lea, forwards; Marone, center, and Mirrasseau and Fisci, guards.

On the 120 lineup were Furtado and Datto, forwards; Compton, forward, and Hocking and Hughes, guards.

Dolly Kiperash, Lulu Murdock and Miss Ruby Howes attended the first G. P. A. L. meeting at Los Gatos last Wednesday evening after school. This organization promotes sports among the high school girls of Santa Clara county.

Preparation is under way for the girls "jinks." Under the supervision of Lois Lloyd and Miss Rae the following committees were appointed: Refreshments: Eva Gurkovich, chairman, Gladys Neilson, Dorothy Bower, Evelyn James, Betty Mumma, Eva Salacci and Gertrude Smith; the program committee is the same as the yell leader committee; Esther Beer, chairman, Esther Carlton, Lulu Murdock, Margaret Smith, Geneveva DiFiore and Dorothy Todd. Decorations: Viola Blyther and Barbara Kapp. Clean-up: Minnie Verra, Violet Rowe, Lois Bachman, Harriet Johnston and Frances Johnston.

Full preparations have not been made, but with the splendid co-operation of our girls, the jinks is bound to be a success.

Seemed as though Jones never could get down to work right. Either he was late or arrived unshaven. When the boss put him on the carpet, he only stuttered and stammered. But Mrs. Jones went out and bought a Crane Automatic Water Heater, and now Jones arrives early, shaved and shining.

Needing no running downstairs with matches, never keeping you waiting for piping hot water, a Crane Water Heater, gas or electric, ushers in a new day in hot water comfort and economy. Ask us to show you.

People who save succeed.
That has been demonstrated over and over again.
The saving habit not only gets one started right but it gives confidence and the will to win.

It prepares us to meet emergencies.
It puts us in position to take advantage of opportunities.
It enables us to get what we want when we want it.
And should sickness, unemployment or misfortune come, the money in the bank will take care of the situation.
